

THE SUNDAY TIMES

JURY ON GIANT

Written by Will Train

Giant begins the end of the overpass.

Yesterday morning in broad daylight, a 20 tonne giant fell through the sky and onto the fast and efficient flyover. After committing this costly crime, the giant was pointed out guilty by judge Christopher newsonberg and charged twenty years in prison.

Jack, a key eye witness, met the giant and reported that he was an insane bloodthirsty monster. After seeing the enormous giant jump and cannonball through the sky onto the overpass Jack went straight to the police.

Many innocent citizens were killed and the once brilliant fly over was toppled like a match stick. The giant was forced to repay and rebuild the fly over, after refusing to give up his last penny's to pay rent for the flyover, he was charged another five years in prison.

The giant has been heavily interviewed by Judge Christopher Newsonberg. The Giant reported “, Don't blame me it was that scoundrel what's his name... Jack isn't it, yeah he made me do it.”

Jack being proved guilty after Giants interview framed him, was sentenced to five years in prison.

Giant crushing fantastic flyover

Jack the guilty liar blabbed through teary eyes “, My actions were committed unavoidable crimes they will rest in prison wrong I admit defeat but please don't blame my mother it was all my fault.”

After many other interviews the Judge's decision settled the situation he exclaimed”, These two men in question have.

This major flyover has become a minor incident.